VOLUME 59-NUMBER 41 THURSDAY, OCTOBER 13, 1983 BELLE GLADE-PAHOKEE, FL.

Rezoning request denied by city

BELLE GLADE - A plot of land in the northwest section of Belle Glade will remain zoned for business use until the owners develop a project for the land that satisfies the city and area residents.

Curtis A. and John T. Thompson asked the city commission to rezone a plot of land adjacent to Two T Plaza at 1417 Northwest Avenue L to permit them to develop it for light industry use.

They had no definite plans for the property, according to city Planning Director Remar M. Harvin.

Harvin told the city commission Monday night, October 10 that the Planning and Zoning Board had recommended the request be denied after hearing objections from several other property owners in the area.

Victor L. Guzman of 1325

Northwest Avenue L said the residents would probably have no objections to most of the facilities a light industrial zoning would permit the Thompsons to construct on the property.

He pointed out that the developers had no plans, however, and the local residents were opposed to granting a more liberal zoning without knowing what type of project was planned for the area.

"They could build something there that would be detrimental to the area," said

Guzman. "We're not opposed to Thompson building. Just to the fact he doesn't know what he's going to build."

Mayor Thomas L. Altman said he agreed with the objections that Guzman and others had raised.

Altman retained as city's mayor

BELLE GLADE - Apparently, incumbency does have an advantage on the Belle Glade city commission.

In the past two years, four of five incumbents haven't drawn opposition in re-election bids. Monday night, October 10, the incumbents were returned to office again.

Thomas L. Altman was retained as mayor by the commission for the fourth consecutive year. He has served as mayor since 1980 and had also served as mayor in 1977 and 1978.

Claude A. Tindall was also elected to his third consecutive term as vice-mayor. Tindall had also been vice-mayor in 1979.

Commissioner Charles Goodlett was unanimously elected to his second consecutive term as the commission's treasurer.

The terms will run through September 1984.

The election process was started and completed in a matter of about five minutes.

Altman had no more than opened the floor for nominations than Goodlett made a motion to retain him as mayor.

"I nominate Tom Altman," said Goodlett.

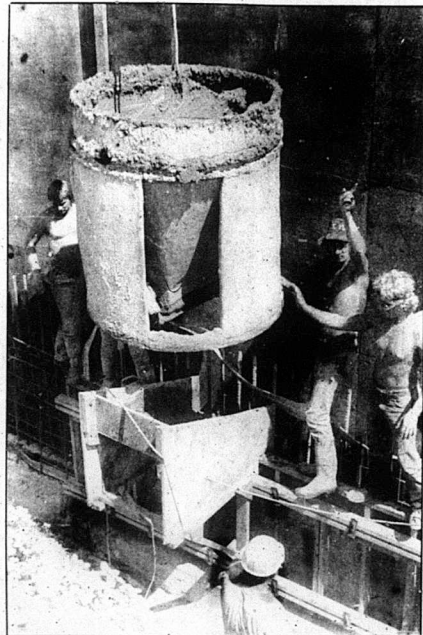

"I second," said Commissioner George Goforth. "I move we dispense with the nominations at this time."

The motion carried unanimously.

"I appreciate the vote of confidence," said Altman.

Goforth nominated Tindall and Goodlett for the vice-mayor and treasurer spots.

Attorney John E. Baker was also retained unanimously by the city commission.

Commission approves Lyons Park decals

BELLE GLADE - Parking at Lyons Park will probably cost vehicle drivers in the not too distant future.

The city commission is prepared to adopt a resolution requiring those who park at the facility to sport two color decals on their vehicles, or risk ticketing by the police.

The decals, according to City Manager W.E.

"Tom" Strang, Jr., could be purchased from the city for about three dollars.

That fee should be enough to cover the cost of the decals and the labor needed to process the applications for the decals.

City officials had struck upon the idea of issuing decals for parking spaces at the park in their efforts to solve problems created by unruly crowds which gathered at the facility and disturbed area residents.

The decals would cost the city 76 cents each. The $2.24 difference between the decals' actual cost and the city charge would cover the cost of processing applications, Strang told the city commission Monday night, October 10.

For October 25 Straw ballot ready

PAHOKEE - The ballot for the October 25 straw poll on Pahokee's city government form is ready and has passed muster with the city council.

The council members saw the ballot Tuesday evening, October 11 and gave their nod of approval.

"Do you favor a change from the present form of city government to a 'city manager' form of government?"

"Under the present form of government, the mayor, city council members, city clerk and city marshal (police chief) are elected. There is no city manager's position in the present form of government."

"Under the proposed city manager form of government, only the city council members would be elected and they would appoint from their members, a mayor. The city council members would also appoint the city clerk, city marshal (police chief) and the city manager."

Voters will then be given the opportunity to vote "Yes, I am in favor of changing the present form of government, to a 'city manager' form of government," or "No, I am not in favor of changing the present form of city government."

The ballot is non-binding but similar polls in the past few years were defeated and city councils have relied heavily on those results as a basis to not change the form of city government.

All the members of the current city council have expressed their approval for the city manager form of government.

Mayor Duncan Padgett has stated publicly that he is opposed to the proposal to change the form of government.

State could clear way for marina development

PAHOKEE - The state of Florida could clear the way for the city of Pahokee to lease the marina to the Pahokee Marina Development Corporation by cancelling the current agreement and adopting a new one, according to a letter City Attorney Michael Stauder recently from the Department of Natural Resources.

According to the letter from Ted Forsgren, chief of the Bureau of State Lands Management, the city and the Board of Trustees of the Internal Improvement Trust Fund entered into an agreement in 1957 that permitted the city operate the marina.

According to Forsgren's letter, the agreement "specifically states that the breakwater shall exist and be operated by the city. This stipulation prohibits the leasing or agreement for the private use of the subject premises."

Forsgren stated the city had one other option that would permit it to enter into an agreement with a developing firm.

That would be to enter a "sovereignty submerged land lease."

An application for that type of lease would have to be filed with the Department of Environmental Regulation and the United States Army Corps of Engineers.

A subsequent application would have to be filed with the Bureau of State Lands Management.

At the same time the city would have to ask that the current agreement be cancelled.

Pahokee city council members received a copy of the letter earlier this week and decided to hold off discussing it or taking action until they became more familiar with its contents.

Police still looking into store deaths

BELLE GLADE - Belle Glade police are still investigating the deaths of two individuals found dead in a local convenience store last week.

Murder and suicide appears to be the reason for the deaths, although police say they aren't sure.

According to Detective Albert Dowdell, 23 year old victim Rhonda Rhinehart was apparently shot once in the chest and stomach area with a 12 gauge shotgun and again in the back with a 12 gauge shotgun.

Charles Rhinehart, 25, was shot in the head.

A single-barrel 12 gauge was found at the scene.

No ballistics tests had been conducted on the gun and it wasn't known if it was the weapon used in the incident at press time.

Dowdell said he will probably never be able to determine if an incident between the two that involved a gunshot at the couple's 802 Northwest 13th Street apartment the previous weekend had anything to do with the deaths.

THE UNION SPORTIVE CLUB of Belle Glade last weekend. Soccer is played at the Glade soccer team defeated the Juniors school every Sunday at 5 p.m. of Miami at Lake Shore Middle School

Soccer teams take field Sunday means . . . soccer?

BELLE GLADE - While four Glades area high schools compete on the gridiron and at the turnstiles for fans, there is a group of Glades residents that compete on a football field of a different sort.

And, if the Sunday, October 9 crowd was any indication, they don't have to worry about the turnstiles too much.

Soccer, the world's most popular sport, is has been played in Belle Glade since 1980 by Haitians living in the Glades.

Four teams from Belle Glade play teams from other cities in Florida.

Last Sunday, the Union Sportive Club of Belle Glade beat the Juniors of Miami 1-0 when Laurent Fils scored 37 minutes into the second half.

Each half is 45 minutes long. According to Jean Herault Similien, about 3,000 people saw the game after paying a dollar each at the gate.

Similien serves as the sport's local spokesman and sportscaster on WSWN-FM. The local radio station broadcasts tapes of the games every Thursday evening at 9 p.m. Local soccer fans can attend games every Sunday at 5 p.m. at Lake Shore Middle School on Southwest Tenth Street in Belle Glade.

While the teams are composed primarily of Haitians, Similien said the teams would allow anyone to participate or attend the games.

This Sunday, Union Sportive Club hosts a West Palm Beach team and the Lions go to Imokalee for a game.

The other two Belle Glade teams are the Veterans and SPS.

Anyone interested in participating should call Similien at 996-1133.

Chasing castles in the sky on a unicorn

South Bay city commissioners want the administration to look into the possibility of landing a 625-bed Veterans Administration hospital for the city. The hospital would be built for $25 million and employ 2,000 people, according to Vice-Mayor Vernita Cox.

Seems like chasing castles in the sky to us, but on the other hand, you never know until you try. The city just might be able to bring that castle down to earth.

Have at it and good luck. We don't think they should hire an outside consultant at this stage, however. The city manager should first determine if there is any possibility of bringing a VA hospital to South Bay and, if there is, start some of the basic groundwork before any consideration is given to hiring a special lobbyist.

We think the commission is jumping the gun by even considering a consultant at this point, when it doesn't even know if South Bay would be considered favorably.

If and when the time does come to hire a consultant, we think the commission could make a better choice than Bonita Gooch. Somebody with closer ties to the area that can recognize and sell the strong points of the Glades would be more capable of lobbying in this matter, we think.

Or someone with extensive experience lobbying in Washington, D.C. would be better.

Gooch doesn't fit either criteria. She's from Riviera Beach and, as far as we know, hasn't had much, if any, experience in the nation's capital. Especially not in the Veterans Administration.

Washington is the home of many experienced, hardnosed lobbyists and, if a city or group wants to compete there with any hope of success, it should be represented by someone on a par with the resident, special interest representatives.

Sending someone like Gooch to that job is like chasing castles in the air. Perhaps the commission should send her on a unicorn.

Examine state option

The Pahokee city council members are looking over a letter from the Bureau of State Lands Management that explains how the city could possibly successfully enter into an agreement with a corporation seeking to develop the city marina.

It apparently involves applying to about three different state and federal agencies for a new agreement between the state and the city to permit the city use the land, and requesting the current agreement between the city and Internal Improvement Trust Fund be terminated.

City Attorney Mike Stauder said he thinks the city, state and corporation would ultimately have to enter into a new agreement. He wasn't sure.

We urge the city council to take its time and make sure of everything before taking any action on something this critical to the future of the city.

Make sure that the state cannot just cancel the agreement with the city and reinstate another. The city could then lose any interest, and profits, derived from the marina.

Of course, that could also mean the city has lost a headache and given it to the state.

Either way the council should make itself aware of every option, opportunity and potential trap before making a decision.

That knowledge can make it easier for the council to make the appropriate choice and avoid problems in the future.

A long-term asset

The refinancing of the 1982 water and sewer revenue bonds in Belle Glade will probably save the city close to $950,000 over the next 30 years.

That savings shows a long-term commitment on the part of city officials to the financial well-being of the city.

Every year, the financial situation at the local government level seems to get tighter and tighter. This type of long range planning will help ease the pain as the situation continues to get tighter.

If, for some odd reason things ret better and money is no longer tight, the savings could represent a chance for the city to progress that much faster than otherwise possible.

We're glad to see that type of fiscal responsibility in our local officials.

We're glad to see that type of fiscal responsibility in our local officials.

Two good zoning decisions

The Belle Glade city commission made two good zoning decisions this week.

It turned down one request for a zoning change at the recommendation of the Planning and Zoning Board and turned down the recommendation of the city planning director in favor of the request by a developer.

In the first instance, the commission was asked to rezone a plot of land in the northwest section of the city to permit its use for light industry.

The developers apparently had no idea what they wanted to put on the land, they just wanted less stringent zoning so they could develop it as they chose.

Area property owners objected. We think they, and the city commissioners, were correct in their objections.

The developers should have presented the city and local property owners with a concrete proposal before requesting a less stringent zoning.

Both the city commissioners and the protesting property owners stated that they weren't opposed to building on the specific piece of land. They were opposed to giving permission to building anything without knowing what that anything might be.

The area was rezoned in 1979 for reason and the city commission showed it has to be presented with a good reason to change that zoning.

In a second matter, the city was asked by a property owner to rezone some residential property on South Main Street to allow an office and restricted business complex to be built.

City Planning Director Remar M. Harvin wanted to rezone the plot to allow a more liberal type of business to operate on the plot.

The more stringent of the two zones was the one requested by the owner and that is the one the city commission approved.

They were right in doing so. Building and zoning restrictions shouldn't be less stringent or more stringent than necessary.

In this case, the plot borders a residential area and is on the main drag through town.

The city should be careful what type of image is conveyed in that area since that is the area most people just passing through will receive their impressions from.

Who'd vote for them?

The Russians are reportedly keeping a close watch on developments in our coming presidential election. And they are spilling vodka all over themselves as they fall off their chairs, helpless with laughter.

What is convulsing them is the idea that we believe a woman might be nominated for Vice President. Your average Russian, you understand, knows about American women from watching them on TV commercials.

I was able to get the Russian viewpoint from a traveler I met in the Belle Glade bus station. He was en route to Disney World, which for some reason he thought was our nation's capitol. The change in his travel plans gave us a day or two to discuss the situation and for me to learn his name: Sugaraki Beetroski Borscht.

"Can't happen," Comrade Borscht said when I asked him whether his country wasn't concerned we might come up with another Margaret Thatcher.

"And, why not?" I asked, polishing my NOW button on his lapel.

"Know, I watch TV. And it was woman who confessed, she would have to iron out wrinkles."

"In our foreign policy," I prompted him.

"Nyet. In her face. In her everything. Is not American be fat and forty."

Warning to his subject, my Russian friend enlightened me further: "Also, American women kept in solitary confinements. Only men meet to drink beer, eat steaks, ride the motorbike, have fun. Always ladies sit alone by swimming pool, drink diet soda. Only sometimes go in kitchen to sniff how smells or kill bugs with hammer, is all. Is no way get votes."

"My friend, you are misled," I said, "American women are very much aware of the issues. They listen."

"To each other," agreed Borscht. "Like I see on headache cure pictures. Lady comes out doctor's office very upset. Doctor tell her she can't take aspirin, she tell friend. 'What am I to do?' she ask friend. Friend tell her what medicine she can take. I think better lady ask doctor. For doctor's advice she pays, no? I think, also, illegal maybe for friend to practice medicine — especially in doctor's waiting room."

"Surely," I scoffed, "you don't think we take TV commercials seriously in this country. Why, we don't even think of those people as being real!"

"Is lies then?" asked Borscht. "Not exactly lies," I hedged. "We think of TV commercials as make-believe — situations that don't really happen that way but could."

Borscht nodded knowingly. "In my country is called Pravda what you call commercials. And in my country what says Pravda is what wins elections. I think same with your TV commercials."

Was Watt that bad?

No one else has had a kind word to say about the man, so I might as well plunge right in.

It seems James Watt, former Interior Secretary, was run out of office because of a few stupid slips of the tongue, rather than his policies.

Many of the things he was trying to do, such as opening up government lands for commercial exploitation weren't necessarily bad. Especially considering that a huge part of most western states is federally owned.

From the furor that arose, however, you might have thought he was planning to drive oil wells on top of Mount Rushmore.

Nevertheless, it is a pity that a man who rose so high couldn't break his habit of saying dumb things in public. Earl Butz had the same tendency.

Is there ANYBODY out there?

If so, are you angry, happy, sad or just indifferent? We want to hear from you. Tell us what you think of the town you're living in and the people who run it. Tell us what you think of us. A letter to the editor can get your views across to others who may or may not feel the same way.

We encourage letters to the editor.

Guidelines include:
• No libelous content.
• No poetry.
• All letters should be signed.

Editor:

What are the mayor, city commissioners and the city manager trying to do, run the retired person out of Belle Glade with the high price of the water and garbage and sewer bill? There is no way a retired person can pay their bill and live in Belle Glade. And with the price of water going up, it seems to me that the richer are getting richer.

The minimum rate is fine for the rich, but not for the person who makes a small income. Why not charge according to the size of the family? Stop taking money away from the retired person and low income people.

That's no way to run Belle Glade, but maybe that's what the people that run this town want: to run the old and needy out of Belle Glade. To make room for the rich and young people. I hope to get out of this town as soon as possible. I can't go on paying high prices for water and sewer and also garbage.

South Bay will try to land a VA hospital

SOUTH BAY - South Bay has a chance of landing a Veterans Administration Hospital, according to City Commissioner Vermita Cox, and she wants to see the city hire a special consultant to help the city land it.

The proposal to hire Bonita Gooch from Riviera Beach as an assistant to City Manager Lomax Harrelle is under consideration by the city manager.

Cox told the commission and other city officials Tuesday night, October 4 that the city could be in the running for a 625-bed VA hospital, but that it must actively pursue the matter.

"We need it in this area and I think it would be a big boost to South Bay to have something like this," said Cox. "But it will be a lot of hard work. It will take a lot of lobbying."

She said the hospital would be a "$25 million project" that would employ 2,000 people after completion.

She said the small city could be in an ideal spot for the hospital because of its location to the major metropolitan centers on the east and west coasts of Florida and because of the major highways which converge in South Bay.

Harrelle was asked if Gooch could be of service to him pursuing the hospital.

He said he would do whatever the city commission directed him to do.

Mayor Donald Tanner asked Harrelle to determine what he would need to try to land the hospital for South Bay and report back to the commission.

Entertainer sought for Jubilee

BELLE GLADE - The Belle Glade Black Gold Jubilee Steering Committee will apparently attempt to hire a big-name entertainer to perform during the April festival in an attempt to top last spring's attention grabbing jubilee.

The committee members are still trying to develop a concept for the main event. The 1983 jubilee featured the "world's largest salad" to celebrate the harvest season's closing.

Members are expected to bring their ideas to the committee meeting in city hall at the committee's next meeting Friday, October 21 at noon.

Suggestions received to date include hiring a show-boat to give tours of the lake and bringing in a group of muzzle-loading club members to establish a primitive camp during the festival's weekend finale.

Chairman Ernie McCroan said all the suggestions have been good and worth considering, but added that the committee is still lacking a "main event" attraction like the salad.

"We can have a goodly number of events, really and truly," said McCroan. "And I think we should. But we should have a main event. Those things aren't 'main events'."

He said one suggestion has been to build the world's largest sugar cube in recognition of the impact the sugar industry has had in the Glades. He said that idea may be worth looking into, but urged committee members to develop other ideas and put them on paper.

While most of the committee members are developing ideas for the "main event," McCroan said he is going to ask committee member Judy Schiele to develop a proposal to hire a big-name entertainer.

He had received the fees and fee-ranges that some entertainers charge from Schiele who told the committee two weeks ago that she was attending a convention in Atlanta and would look into the fees.

The fees ranged anywhere from $6,500 to $50,000 for one performance. The entertainers included B.B. King, B.J. Thomas, Barbara Mandrell, Alabama and a gospel singing group.

The committee members discussed the possibility of placing a stage on Hoover Dike and having the audience watch the show from both sides of the embankment.

The United States Army Corps of Engineers would have to be consulted and asked for permission on such a venture.

City drops 2 lawsuits

PAHOKEE - The Pahokee city council has directed its attorney to drop two law suits filed against local residents who apparently had messy lots because those lots have been cleared.

Building Inspector Phelix Slonaker told the council Tuesday, October 11 that the lot owned by Grant Van Sickle on Cypress Avenue and the East Main Street lot owned by Joe Alderman had been cleared

Michael Stauder said the city could continue to press the suit stemming from the alleged code violations and obtain an injunction in case the individuals violated the code again, but he suggested the city not continue with the suits.

"Drop it," he said. The council voted 4-0 to drop the suits.

The council voted 4-0 to drop the suits.

Watt discusses state legislative session

PAHOKEE - The prospects for four-lane state road 80 have improved over the past Florida legislative session due to the efforts and unity of the Palm Beach County delegation, according to James Watt, the district 81 state house representative.

"It looks better than it ever did for state road 80," said Watt in his report on the session to the Pahokee city council Tuesday night, September 27. "I'll still believe it when I'm driving on it."

Mayor Duncan Padgett asked Watt to give the city council more details on how funds for the improvements to the killer highway were approved.

"For the last 40 years, we have heard about state road 80, but you have really pinned the financing down," said Padgett.

According to Watt, when the legislature went into a special session to examine the state's transportation needs, the proposal put before the legislators didn't include much for the state road 80 project.

"Considerable credit has to be given to your entire Palm Beach County delegation," said Watt.

The 12-member delegation "stuck together" and gained added funds for the project, he said.

"It came down to you need 12 votes and they're in Palm Beach County," said Watt.

Watt said plans call for the highway to be four-laned from the Glades all the way to the coast by 1990 except in the Forrest Hill Boulevard area. That's due to the environmental Regulation to conduct an assessment of hazardous waste in Florida and prohibits the construction of hazardous waste landfills."

Adopting a $233 million educational reform package which "places greater emphasis on math, science and computer technology; merit pay for teachers; longer school hours and school year."

The bill also will gradually increase graduation credits from 20 credits to 24 credits over three years.

Passing a "lemon law."

According to Watt, "The 'lemon law' requires auto manufacturers to give motorists refunds or replace new cars if a dealer is unable, after three tries, to rectify a chronic condition."

Zoning

"If the property owner had a specific project in mind, it might better enable us to take action on this thing rather than just give him carte blanche on it," said Altman. "I agree with Dr. Guzman that it would help if there was a specific project in mind."

Harvin said he told Curtis Thompson that the city may lift its objections to the rezoning request if a specific project was proposed.

The property, which lies between the Banyan Tree and Two T Plaza on Northwest Avenue 1, is zoned B2 for restricted business. The rezoning request was for I1, light industrial.

In the formal request, the Thompsons pointed out that the property was originally annexed into the city as I1.

"It was subsequently changed to B2 in the 1979 adoption of the land use plan," stated the letter.

"The I1 zoning would permit 'increased flexibility in the use of the property,'" the request continued.

"It appears at this time that offices and small retail outlets are possibly over-supplied. With this in mind, some change in direction for the balance of our undeveloped property appears in order."

The commission also considered several other zoning and annexation requests.

• It authorized the city attorney to draw up an ordinance to annex a plot of land west of Chosen on West Canal Street North. The property will apparently be used to store motor homes, campers and boats.

Fire Chief Pete Webb said the presence of the motor homes, with their electrical and gas systems, would present a danger of fire. He pointed out that the pressure in the fire hydrants in that section of the city was too low to allow the fire department to hook hoses up to them, and suggested the property owner be asked to install a dry hydrant.

A dry hydrant would involve placing a casing in the ground that feeds directly into a water source, such as the nearby Hillsborough Canal.

• The commission approved a request to rezone property at 140, 132 and 124 Northwest 11th Street in Belle Glade from R2 residential to R3 residential.

The rezoning, if given final approval by the commission, would permit the owner, Charles A. Morris, to build 12 one and two bedroom apartments.

• The commission approved a request that property located at 627 South Main Street be rezoned from residential to B1 for business.

This would permit the owner, Mary O. Miller, to construct a professional office complex on the site.

Harvin told the commission that, although the owner was only requesting a B1 zoning, he recommended a B2 zone to permit less stringent use of the property for business.

The city commission authorized the changing of the zone to B1 at the request of the owner.

"I think it is commendable when the developer asks for a more restrictive zoning than the staff is ready to recommend," said Altman.

• The commission approved a recommendation by the Planning and Zoning Board that a special use request for the property at 1412 Southwest Avenue E be denied.

The owner, R.J. Poole, wanted to place a 40 foot long van trailer on the plot for collecting aluminum cans.

• The commission decided against changing the city ordinance to permit an establishment to operate as a beer and wine tavern less than 300 feet from a church.

Owners of the Jocelyn Disco at 424 Southwest Avenue C had asked for an alcoholic beverage designation to permit the sale of beer and wine on the premises.

It was determined that the establishment was 199 feet from the Endtime Pentecostal Church at 257 Southwest Fifth Street and the commission could not legally grant the request without first changing the ordinance.

None of the commissioners stated they wanted to change the ordinance.

"We've had this issue several times before us and that 300 foot area has been upheld many times by the commission," Altman told the owners of the property.

Refinancing to save $950,000

BELLE GLADE - The refinancing of the 1982-1983 water and sewer revenue bonds will save the city about $950,000 according to Belle Glade City Manager W.E. "Tom" Strang, Jr.

The city has apparently reached an agreement to sell the refunding issue at about 9.4 percent. A meeting was scheduled for noon Wednesday, October 12 in city hall to complete the paperwork involved in floating the issue.

Later this month, city officials are expected to fly to New York City to finalize the issue. City officials had asked its special financial advisor on the bond refinancing, Toby Wagner of Southeastern Municipal Bonds, to use his discretion and float the bonds when he thought he could get a good deal for the city.

Apparently, that opportunity presented itself last week.

According to Mayor Thomas L. Altman, a "window in the market" developed and Wagner slipped the Belle Glade issue through it. That window was "open and shut very quickly," he said.

The bond market had been very erratic over the past several months with interest rates going higher than what city officials and city financial advisors were hoping when they made the decision to refinance last year's bonds.

"I think we got a real good deal, looking at the market," said Strang. "And we do need to progress with this as fast as possible."

The new bond issue will refinance the 1982A and 1982B bonds. The 1982A bonds were floated at 12 to 12.25 percent and the 1982B bonds were floated at 10.5 percent. The total amount of the issues being refinanced is $8.4 million dollars.

Park

In the past, crowds have apparently gathered at the park late in the evening and bothered people who live in the area.

The city commission attempted to restrict parking. The police department apparently enforced the no parking ban only if individuals at the park were creating a disturbance to local residents.

According to Strang, that brought protests from residents who wanted the parking restrictions upheld all the time.

The parking deals is an attempt to solve those problems. Mayor Thomas L. Altman had told the commission a week ago that he didn't think any of the individuals who had caused problems at the park would bother to purchase a deal.

Structures to go up at city marina

BELLE GLADE - Three chickees will probably be built at the Belle Glade Marina by Seminole Indians in the near future.

The chickees will be paid for by the Black Gold Jubilee Steering Committee, which decided to leave a lasting imprint of its efforts with any profits it makes through the annual spring festival.

The committee is waiting for word from the city before it determines the size and location of the three structures.

Only one of the three will apparently be paid for since the builder of the chickees volunteered to build two small chickees for free if the committee hired him to build one larger one and permitted him to use one of the smaller ones to sell his chickees at the jubilee.

The committee can have a chickee measuring 12 feet by 16 feet built for $960 or it can have a 10x20 feet chickee built for $1,000.

The city and South Florida Water Management have already given their approval to the chickee's construction, according to committee Chairman Ernie McCroan.

WATCH FOR IT!

Oh no! Not newspaper week

By JEFF BROWN

BELLE GLADE - Oh no, not again!

Another year has come and gone and, guess what, National Newspaper Week has crept up on us.

Yep, in the newspaper business look upon good ol' National Newspaper Week as almost, no, even better than Christmas.

So many of you people out there must be all of six of you always use this auspicious, er... auspicious occasion to heap us with praise, appreciation and, dare we say it, gifts.

Well, we just want to say thank you and keep the gifts. We already have too many neckties and none of us wear cologne and perfume.

And we thought maybe you'd like to meet just who you're talking about when you bring our names up.

We have a really enormous staff here at the Herald-Observer office. Just huge.

Four desks and someone to sit behind every one of them... on occasion.

Let's see now. When you first walk in the door, you get to meet our office manager, Brenda Bunting.

Brenda has the longest tenure of all of us here at the Herald-Observer. She's been here five years. There are people who've been with the company longer, but not with just this operation. Guess that makes her the oldtimer on our staff.

Brenda is the one you go to if you want to buy a classified ad. If you have a problem with that ad or your subscription, you yell at her and she yells at the person responsible.

But Brenda does much more than classifieds and front desk work. She develops film, covers social and some spot news during the day, helps the advertising staff if it's busy and getting busier, keeps the office supplied with film, pens, paper and whatever else it is that offices need, and keeps the newspaper's meager finances in order.

She was on vacation for the past two weeks and we sure do miss her.

She handles all the "little things" that are important to the newspaper. Without someone like her to handle those "little things" the rest of the staff has a hard time getting anything else done.

Somehow, Brenda found time to get married and raise two children. She and her husband Bob and two sons Bobby and Christopher live somewhere in the Glades area.

Just who is the rest of the staff? Glad you asked that. The rest of the huge staff which brings you the Herald-Observer every week consists of three people.

Well, we have two people in advertising. Our advertising director is Bill Phillips. He doesn't want us to mention it, so we won't tell you that he used to work for us before, then left and came back.

We could tell you that Bill is married and has 10 children. But that would be a lie.

He's single and owns a cat and an automobile.

What does Bill do? He sells advertisements. That's those things that pay for the paper. If you paid for this paper, you shouldn't have.

The ads already did that.

Bill also creates and designs special sections like our annual football and Christmas sections.

He also writes "business stories."

Who helps Bill? Diana Martin is our resident advertising specialist.

She also sells advertisements, particularly to automobile dealers, automotive stores and for all special editions.

She's also the Herald-Observer's West Palm Beach advertising representative.

If you see Diana driving up to your business in a large pink pickup truck, that's not her. She doesn't have a large pink pickup truck. But she does have a family that includes a husband and five children.

Well that brings us to the editorial staff.

Our overstaffed editorial department's name is Jeff Brown.

He's the paper's editor, reporter, writer and photographer.

He's been here two years, (what's that Jeff, you say "Two very, very loooong years"? and claims to be a personal friend of somebody. He won't say who.

That's about it, as far as the Herald-Observer staff goes. There are other people who work for the company in Clewiston that we think should be mentioned so we'll do that and tell you what they do. Sorta like the credits after a movie. A lot of people don't stick around for those, but if you do, these are our credits:

Records go out the window when lake rivals tangle

Pahokee, Clewiston meet in grid title game

By JIM JONES

Friday night, Oct. 14, Clewiston and Pahokee play for all the marbles at Pahokee's Lake Field.

The winner of that game will be the district 14, Class 2A champion and will take part in the state football playoffs.

The loser will have the next year to brood about what went wrong.

Clewiston has already beaten district opponents Immokalee and LaBelle. A win would give Clewiston the title. If Clewiston loses, the Tigers still would have a shot at the title, depending on Pahokee's performance against Immokalee and LaBelle later this season.

Clewiston, defending Class 2A champions, enters the game with a 4-1 record, including three consecutive shutouts when it has whipped opponents by a combined score of 100-0.

Pahokee comes into the game with a 1-4 record.

It is difficult to compare the two teams, however, because Pahokee plays a schedule emphasizing East Coast schools, while Clewiston's schedule features the best from the West Coast.

"Our boys are looking forward to it. Pahokee is too," said Coach Al Morrell.

"In my opinion they are a very talented and dangerous football team," Morrell said of the Blue Devils. "They have a lot of size and ability. They have quick wideouts, a quarterback who can throw deep (Kenny Berry) and that big tight end (6-4, 230 pound Demetrius Brown). They have all that ability and they can hurt you on any down."

"He is tough. He didn't play any offense last year," Pahokee Coach Amos Turner said of Brown.

Clewiston features the running attack of Hal White, Gerald Johnson, and Leonard Mixon along with a deep passing threat in the person of Titus Dixon.

Turner says Clewiston enters the game with momentum, but that it should be an exciting game.

Pahokee is hungry for a win after losing to Class 4A teams Atlantic, Lake Worth, and Boca Raton, and to 3A power Glades Central.

"I feel we can handle them," Turner said of Clewiston. "We have to establish our ground game and not make any mistakes. Clewiston is a finesse team and you can't afford to make mistakes against them."

The history of the series is a tight one. Clewiston has beaten Pahokee three of the last four years. Currently, Pahokee holds a slight edge in series play, winning 17 games, compared to 16 for Clewiston. There have been two ties.

The Devils dropped to 1-4 last week after losing to Lake Worth 31-12 in a Palm Beach County Athletic Conference game.

The Blue Devils scored a touchdown in the second quarter when Kenny Berry hit Anthony Smith with a 46-yard touchdown pass. In the fourth period, Paul Buxton caught an eight yard pass for the only other Devil touchdown of the night.

"You will see us play a good game. I'll be surprised and disappointed if we are not at our best," Morrell said.

"They are up for it," Turner said of his Blue Devils. "It's time for us to come through with a victory."

Raiders win 4th, down Twin Lakes, 41-25

By ALMA HENRY

BELLE GLADE - The Twin Lakes Rams became victim number four Friday, October 7 as the Glades Central Raiders dropped them 41-25.

The victory upped the Raiders' record to 4-1.

Tailback Tim Sims rushed for 92 yards and two touchdowns and caught three passes for 47 yards to help lead the Raiders to victory.

A blocked punt by Louis Oliver in the first quarter put the Raiders in good field position and the team capitalized. Sims carried the ball over from the 13-yard line and kicked the point after touchdown to give Glades Central a 7-0 lead.

Twin Lakes (3-2) didn't waste any time coming back, though. The Rams quickly put 13 unanswered points on the scoreboard before the end of the first period as a result of two Raider fumbles.

Defensive back William Honres ran 19 yards with a Raider fumble and Willie Smith caught an eighty-yard pass from Jerry Chancy to give Twin Lakes a 13-7 lead.

But Glades Central rallied with five straight touchdowns to hand the Rams their second defeat of the season.

The Raiders put 20 points on the board in the second quarter while the defense held the Rams scoreless.

Quarterback Kenneth Hammond sneaked into the end zone from the three yard line early in the second period. He almost fumbled enroute, but held on for the score.

The extra-point by Sims was good and Raiders reclaimed the lead 14-13.

Alonzo Allen caught a 17-yard pass from Hammond for a touchdown that put the Raiders up 20-13. The extra-point was good and the Raiders led by eight.

Santonio Holmes recovered a Ram fumble in the endzone to give the Raiders a 27-14 lead. The kick failed and three Raiders went to the locker room with a 27-12 halftime lead.

The Raiders scored two more touchdowns, one each in the last two periods.

John Ford caught a 63-yard touchdown pass from Hammond to put the Raiders up 33-12 in the third.

Sims carried the ball over for the two-point conversion.

Sims also scored the Raiders last touchdown, carrying the ball 62 yards in the fourth quarter to give the Raiders a 41-12 lead.

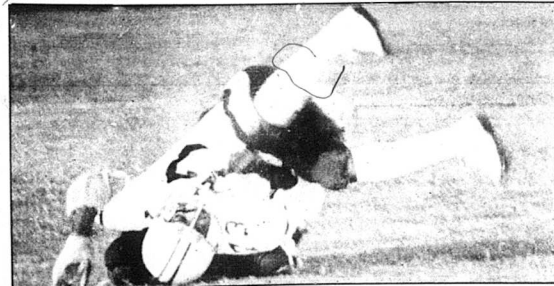

The Rams scored two touchdowns in the fourth quarter to close the gap to 41-25, but it was too little too late as the Raiders cruised to their fourth victory.

Rhondy Weston was the Raider defensive star with eight tackles, six assists and one fumble recovery.

Defensive back Marty Darisaw intercepted two Twin Lakes passes. One of the turnovers set up the touchdown by Ford.

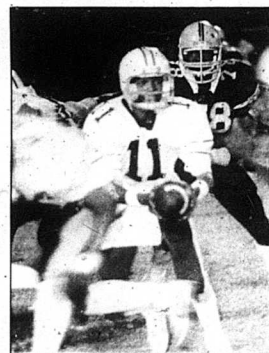

The Raiders will travel to Delray Friday to play the Atlantic Eagles in a Palm Beach County Athletic Conference South Division game.

A Twin Lakes punt returner bites the dust.

KENNETH HAMMOND (11) carries the ball for the Raiders in their game against Twin Lakes last Friday. The Raiders won.

TWIN LAKES QUARTERBACK looks for someone to take the ball while the Raider defense closes in quickly.

Glades Day School downs Placid, prepares for district foe King's

By JEFF BROWN

BELLE GLADE - The Glades Day Gators, who came off a two-week idle period to defeat class 2A Lake Placid 18-15 and up their record to 3-1, have turned their sights on district rivals.

The Gators will meet King's Academy at Gator Field in an attempt to up their district record to 2-0. They had beaten St. John Neumann in their first game of the season to notch their first district victory of the season.

Gator Coach Byron Walker said he thinks the game will be a "knock-down drag-out" contest. "I hope we'll win," said Walker. "King's is a solid football team."

He said he expects the Gators' biggest problems from the King's offense will center on the quarterback, wide receiver and tailback.

"King's is a district game," said Walker. "They play us pretty hard in baseball and basketball. Our kids don't like to lose to them." He said he is also hoping the district game will spark some emotion that he feels is being missing in his team.

"The boys weren't emotionally into the game," he said of last Friday's victorious contest with Lake Placid. "We have to get them emotionally ready for the opposing teams. Maybe playing in the district will make it easier to emotionally prepare them. Lake Placid was non-district and 2A."

It was the Gators' first game in two weeks and Walker said he saw some improvement on the defense, but wasn't too impressed with the offense.

"I think we improved a great deal on defense," said Walker. "We gave up 15 points, but that was due to poor offensive play and turnovers. I wasn't pleased overall with the offense. We missed three extra-points. Three fumbles that we lost concerned me a great deal. Two of them were center to quarterback relays."

He said some of the offense problems could be attributed to the attention the defense got over the past two weeks.

Walker wasn't pleased with the defense after the Gators previous game against Dade Christian so he said he intended to use the two-week layoff to build the defense.

While the coaching staff normally concentrated on offense Monday and Wednesday and defense every Tuesday, most of the time in the past two weeks was spent coaching the defense.

"The offense didn't play terrible offense," said Walker. "We won. We survived but we didn't play well and that's just about the bottom line."

Walker said this week he intended to work on improving the offense and preparing the team emotionally for the game.

"If they don't get prepared emotionally, our kids are in for a rude awakening," said Walker. The Gators scored first in the first period when Quarterback Brian Lohmann carried the ball over the goal line from 24 yards out.

The extra-point attempt failed. In the same quarter, Lake Placid took the lead with a 22-yard TD run and an extra-point.

Robert Echols put the Gators in the lead to stay when he carried the ball over from the 15 yard line. An attempt at the two-point conversion failed and the Gators went into the half with a 12-7 lead.

The third period was scoreless.

Mike Schlechter scored what would be the winning points in the final period when he caught a 28 yard touchdown pass from Brian Lohmann. Later that period, the Dragons pushed the ball over from the one yard line and added a two-point conversion to close to within three.

They'd have to settle for that margin, however, since both defenses prevented further scoring. Walker pointed to Schlechter and Lohmann as the Gators' strongest players in the game.

Schlechter made three interceptions on defense and caught two passes for 52 yards and a touchdown on offense. "It was an excellent all around performance for him," said Walker.

Lohmann was five of nine passing for 118 yards. "We have to work on him to improve the option game now," said Walker.

He also said the defensive front seven did a good job. "They're really coming around. I'm pleased with their improvements."

Friday night's game starts at 8 at Gator Field.

CDS loses in overtime, 6-0

BELLE GLADE - The Belle Glade Christian Crusaders' hopes to improve on last years 5-4 record are on the rocks after losing in overtime to Hollywood Christian.

The 6-0 loss dropped the Crusaders to 0-5 with four games remaining on the schedule.

Last years 5-4 mark was the best in the school's history.

"I'm very disappointed we didn't pull it out," said Athletic Director David Dailey. "I thought we were going to win."

Both teams fought to a scoreless tie through four periods of regulation play. In overtime, Hollywood won when Lou Scalia carried the ball over the goal-line from four yards out.

The Crusaders rushed for 92 yards. James

Barnwell led the team with 55 yards on 19 carries.

Warren McMillan led the team defensively with nine assists and JoJo Ramos with three tackles and six assists.

Dailey also commended Shannon McNeil who came off the bench with one tackle and six assists.

The Crusaders recovered five fumbles, intercepted a pass and lost three fumbles.

Hollywood was held to 130 yards on the ground and 20 in the air.

The Crusaders will host Broward Christian Saturday, October 15 at 2 p.m.

The Crusaders play at their field at Six Mile Bend off of state road 80.

Part-time cosmetology course offered by Tech

A part-time evening Cosmetology Course will be offered at West Technical Education Center beginning on Oct. 31.

Stephen Stahlsmith, assistant director, said the course will prepare students to take the State of Florida Exam in Cosmetology. Students admitted to study in this program will attend class 7-10 p.m. four nights a week. They will be expected to attend class over a two-year period in order to meet state requirements for hours of attendance, said Rachael Brown, guidance counselor.

Brown said application information is available from the Student Services Office at West Tech by calling 996-4933 from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. daily. She said the part-time course will meet the standards needed to prepare students to become certified Cosmetologists once they pass the State of Florida Cosmetology Exam. Students will need 1200 hours of study.

Prospective students will be tested and interviewed at West Tech. Fees will be the same as those for other part-time classes, said Stahlsmith. He said students will be expected to purchase a cosmetology kit needed for laboratory practice.

during the two-year course. Stahlsmith said
